

visual brand

v0.4 - Revised 07/27 Preliminary. Do not distribute logo

Bold typeface for visibility at small scale Visually kerned to keep self-contained House embedded in R pays tribute to RHA's origins as a housing organization

Primary Logo

The primary logo can be used at all different sizes in any uniform color sanctioned by the brand guidelines.

minimum padding (print)

1.5 PostScript picas

1/4 Inches

University Alternate Logo

The university version of the logo should never be used at small scales

minimum height (print)

4 PostScript picas

²/₃ Inches

minimum padding (print)

1.5 PostScript picas

1/4 Inches

LOGO DOS AND DON'TS

Change the under-logo text, tracking, kerning, or weight

Commit the atrocity of using multiple (unsanctioned) colors in the logo

EMORY UNIVERSITY

Use a single, sanctioned color or gradient in the logo

Make alterations to the logo or use a different (unsanctioned) logo

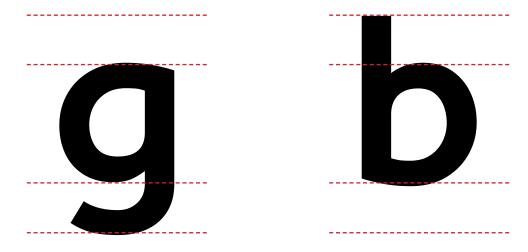

Use one of the two easily accessible, scalable logos we've given you typography

sphinx of black quartz, judge my vow.

Effra is a humanist/grotesque blend sans serif typeface which combines the readability and authoritativeness of well-known grotesque faces (Helvetica, Akzidenz Grotesk) with playful deviations from purely geometric shapes.

Effra characters feature exaggerated curvature, variable stroke width, and unique teardrop shapes that contribute to the face's sense of fun and whimsy.

Effra Heavy
Effra Bold
Effra Medium Effra Regular Effra Light

Effra Heavy Effra Bold Effra Medium Effra Regular Effra Light

Effra comes in four weights (heavy, bold, medium, regular, and light) in both roman and italic forms. Italic forms should be reserved for conveying emphasis in body text (and should not be used in headers).

Sphinx of black quartz, judge my vow.

minimum size (print)

10 Point

Sphinx of black quartz, judge my vow.

minimum padding (print)

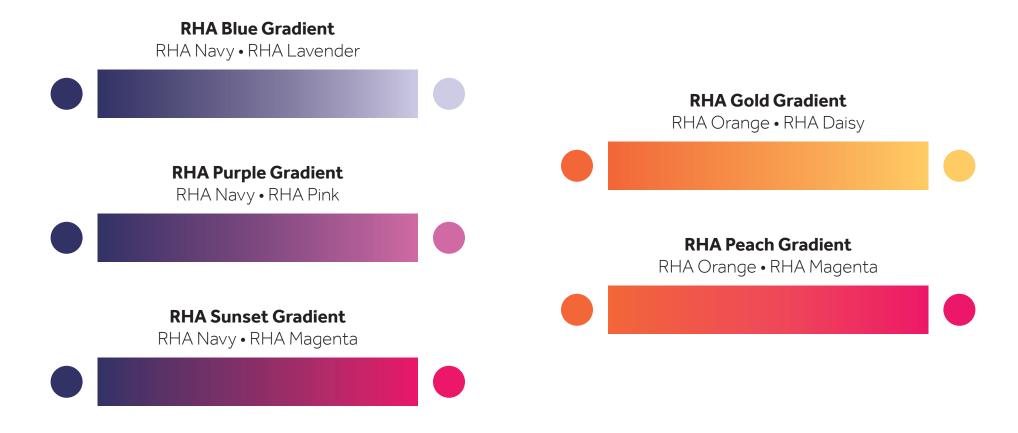

1.5 PostScript picas

1/4 Inches

color

Solid colors should almost always be used as endpoints in gradients or as solid text or logo colors.

Gradients should be used in backgrounds to convey depth, dimension, and light. Gradients are inspired by Emory and the Atlanta area, and they should be combined with one another in a pleasing (not clashing) and thematic way.